Citation

Ms. Hafsa Khan is an accomplished higher education professional contributing to Pakistan's national digital transformation through the implementation of Blackboard LMS (MAKTAB) under the HEC initiative. As an Associate LMS Support professional at TMC, she plays a pivotal role in onboarding, training, and supporting over 25 public sector universities across Pakistan during the first-ever rollout of an international Learning Management System at the national level.

Beyond her core support responsibilities, Ms. Khan demonstrated exceptional initiative by voluntarily assuming onsite training responsibilities to understand real academic and operational challenges. She independently conducted live, onsite LMS training sessions for faculty and students, enabling effective adoption and utilization of Blackboard across multiple institutions.

A key achievement includes her sole leadership in faculty and student training at the Pakistan Institute of Development Economics (PIDE). Through structured onboarding, hands-on sessions, and continuous guidance, her efforts directly contributed to PIDE securing 3rd position nationally in LMS adoption and utilization.

As an alumna of COMSATS University Islamabad, Ms. Khan proudly represents her alma mater through her professional service to national higher education reform. In a full-circle professional milestone, she trained faculty at PIDE—an institution from which her own educators had completed their postgraduate education—reflecting peer recognition, credibility, and leadership within the academic community.

Ms. Khan's contributions align with HEC's vision of digitizing Pakistan's higher education ecosystem, improving academic delivery, governance, and accessibility nationwide.
